John Duckworth has been appointed as the new Chief Investment Officer at the Government Property Agency.

THE GOVERNMENT Property Agency (GPA) has confirmed the appointment of John Duckworth as its new Chief Investment Officer (CIO).

John has extensive experience in strategic and operational leadership across the real estate industry.

Mark Bourgeois, the GPA’s Chief Executive Officer, said:

“I am thrilled to confirm John as the new GPA CIO. These are both challenging and exciting times, and in making this appointment we were looking for someone to have an immediate impact, who could work across the broad range of stakeholders, to evolve the system of strategic delivery for government and to support our department partners.”
