The Czech Telecommunication Office published on its website the annual activity report of the National Digital Services Coordinator for 2025, in which it transparently and clearly reports on last year's activities of the Office in relation to the application of the DSA.

In preparation for the adoption of the Adaptation Act, CTU actively worked on deepening close cooperation with the sector and developing internal capacities. The main tasks of last year included the establishment of a DSA advisory body composed of representatives of academics, authorities, business and user sectors. Furthermore, the creation of a self-identification calculator that helps service providers understand the rules that apply to them under the DSA.

In addition, CTU has significantly developed its activities in promoting digital literacy of children and adolescents. CTU representatives have also been actively involved in cross-border cooperation within the framework of the European Board for Digital Services.

“Our priority in the implementation of the DSA is to engage in a dialogue with all stakeholders to ensure the protection of Czech citizens on online platforms”, says Marek Ebert, Chairman of the CTU Council.
