Gide advised Heal Capital in connection with Vocca's $20 million Series A funding round.

Vocca, a company founded in 2024 and specialising in AI voice agents for healthcare providers, has closed a $20 million Series A funding round led by Norrsken VC, alongside Heal Capital, Speedinvest and firstminute capital, as well as several business angels, including the founders of Alan and Datadog. The funding will enable the company to continue its roll-out to medical practices across the United States and Europe.

The Gide team was composed of partner Paul Jourdan-Nayrac and associate Marie-Flora Mendes.
